SAN MATEO COUNTY FOR SUPERVISORS SET DATE INCORPORATION ELECTION

Lawnsdale Selected as Name of Cemetery District; Plans Presented for Skyline Lateral

Scenes strongly reminiscent of the days not long ago when proponents of the incorporation of Atherton and those of Menlo Park appeared before the board of supervisors and gave the board such a tangled problem to unravel, were enacted this week when the men interested in the incorporation of the cemetery district in the north end of the county appeared before the board with the proponents of the incorporation of Colma. Oddly enough too, Supervisor Hickey found himself in the same unpleasant situation in which Supervisor MacBain was placed in by the conflicting petitions in this township.

Partial hearings had been given to both propositions previously and Monday had been set as the date for the final hearing and to take some action in the matter. The question of the incorporation of the cemeteries was, therefore, taken up first; the petition for that incorporation being the first filed.

The cemetery people were represented by Attorney Hall Ross of this city, who throughout the heated argument that ensued handled his case in a masterly manner, and was never at loss for a point. The opponents of the measure were represented by J. Colebird of South San Francisco and Albert Mansfield both able attorneys and well versed in municipal law. The excellence of legal talent on both sides made the debate one of close arguments, and one that lasted well into the afternoon session. The matter was only brought to a close when Supervisor Hickey, declaring that it was the place of the people of the district to state their own preference, moved that an election be called to settle the matter on July 29th.

In making his motion, however, Hickey stated as he had done before, that he did not favor the name of "City of Memorial Parks," proposed for the city. The name was therefore changed to Lawndale at the suggestion of some of the proponents of the incorporation. This name met with the approbation of the board and the motion of Supervisor Hickey was unanimously passed.

The matter of the incorporation of the town of Colma was laid over for two weeks.

Attorney A. H. Reddington of Hillsborough appeared before the board and presented the election returns of a bond election held in the Hillsborough school district on June 21. The returns showed that the bond issue of $20,000 had been voted by the people of the district.

Returns of the election held in Belmont for the formation of a sanitary district and in North Palo Alto for the formation of a lighting district were presented to the board by District Attorney Swart.

The matter of closing certain unused roads in the Meses ranch near Belmont brought before the board by Attorney Lee Ross of this city, who representing the Belmont Country Club, presented the petition for abandonment. J. W. Lyons of Belmont was sworn and testified to the roads being unused. The roads were ordered closed upon a motion of Supervisor Brown.

Supervisor Hickey called the attention of the board to the fact that in the absence of the secretary of the social service commission there was no one empowered to sign the checks for the social service commission, and cited a case where money should be spent. Upon a motion of Supervisor Hickey this power was given to Supervisor Mac Bain during the absence of the secretary.

A resolution was presented by Supervisor Francis to employ Thomas Curran as inspector of the new work being done on the Crystal Springs road to Halfmoon Bay. His pay was fixed in the resolution at $7 per day. The resolution was passed by the board.

Plans and specifications were presented to the board by County Surveyor Geo. Kneese for the lateral from the Skyline boulevard to Burlingame. The plans and specifications were accepted by the board.

A petition was received from several residents of the Tobin school district asking to have the name of the district changed to Rockaway. The matter was laid over for two weeks.

Reports were received from the various county officers and filed.

JACKIE COOGAN TRIUMPHS ANEW AS BELGIAN LAD

"A Boy of Flanders" Proves Most Human Picture He Has Ever Had

In each picture thus far revealing the genius off Jackie Coogan, a different fact of his singular appeal has been disclosed. From "The Kid," in which the lad co-starred with Charlie Chaplin and made his screen debut, to "Long Live the King," recently released by Metro, every characterization depicted by Jackie has been different from every other. Different depths of pathos, different degrees of merriment, different heights of tragedy and different qualities of humor have been explored in the kaleidoscopic art of his wonder-child.

Now comes "A Boy of Flanders" different from all the others, and as will be presented next Monday and Tuesday, July 14 and 15th and at a Matinee Tuesday Afternoon at 2:30 at the Sequoia Theatre will be as effective as the best that Jackie has given to the world of his admirers. It is not so elaborate as the first of Metro's Jackie Coogan productions, its plot is simpler and less involved; it is not so advenurous as "Circus Days" nor as harrowing as "Oliver Twist," but it possesses more human appeal with its merriment and delightfully wistful spiritual quality. The plot floats in alternating sunlight and shadow. It is streaked with the gay colors of abounding joy and dashed with the sombre shades of tragedy.

Miss Gladys Boxton, who just graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco, and her mother, Mrs. George Boxton have returned to their home on Finger avenue.

Four Girls Injured in Auto Wreck

In an accident which occured in Burlingame last Wednesday night four girls were injured and their car was completely wrecked. The girls were Bell Mirandette of this city and the Misses Alice, Ida and Ann Sagesser, two of whom are employed in the local office of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

The girls were riding in the Sagesser car at the time. The car was struck from a car traveling at a high rate of speed from the direction of San Francisco. The girl's car turn completely over by the force of the blow. The other car hurtled down the highway for several yards and wrecked itself against a tree. Two men in the other car were seen to get out and run away among some bushes by the side of the highway.

Miss Mirandette was found to be badly cut and was taken to the Mills memorial hospital for treatment. The Sagesser girls were cut about the face with flying glass and were badly bruised.

Upon investigation by the police it was found that the auto in which the two men had been riding was one that had been stolen from John Froberg of 1526 Filbert street, San Francisco a short time before. It is supposed that the thieves had driven directly from Froberg's place where they found the car, to Burlingame. They are suposed to have been on the way to Pacific City.

Coast Hotel Man Cited to Appear

Just why a large power launch was found unloading a cargo of liquor at a wharf near his resort on the coastside, just north of the Halfmoon Bay, is the question that Joseph Petroni, well-known hotel man of the coastside will have to explain to San Francisco prohibition officials.

According to reports, prohibition officials found the launch unloading its cargo of liquor near the Petroni House at Moss Beach on Tuesday evening. When they attempted to approach the launch, it is said, two men tried to stop them, but afterwards dropped their weapons, a revolver and rifle, and ran shouting, it is claimed to Petroni to run also. The boat backed away from shore and succeeded in escaping into the darkness.

The men who tried to stop the federal oficers, it is said, wore hip boots and carried police stars. They told the officers that they were deputy sheriffs. In the guns that were found after the two men escaped were dum dum bullets, which according to the officers were almost sure to have killed anyone whom they struck.

A search was made of the premises of Petroni's place and several bottles of wine were found, which it is said, corresponded to those being unloaded from the launch. The combination of evidence lead to the issuance of a citation for Petroni to explain the affair.

FLETCHER A. CUTLER ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Fletcher A. Cutler, the well-known Burlingame attorney and grand vice president of the Native Sons, has announced his candidacy for senator of the Eleventh District, comprising San Mateo, Santa Cruz and San Beneto counties. Mr. Cutler has few equals as a public speaker in the state, is forceful in oratory, and would be a credit to the district. He would bring glory to San Mateo county and to the Queen City of the hills, Burlingame. In his campaign he would have the backing and support of the Native Sons of the district and a united republican party.

Mr. Cutler will seek the nomination of both parties. Cutler was formerly judge of Del Norte county. Besides being the city attorney of Burlingame he has offices in San Francisco and Oakland.

AUTOISTS STARTS "RUN" ON LOCAL BANK OF ITALY

A lone and unknown autoist staged a "run" on the local branch of the Bank of Italy last Wednesday evening. In endeavoring to turn on Broadway, the driver of the car (he must have run a tank during the war) climbed up the curb and would have proceeded up the front steps of Redwood City's financial institution had not his front wheel hit the brick of the building. The driver succeeded in plowing through several bricks before the car refused to go further. He then climbed out, picked up the fragments of his windshield and left the Sahara, where there is more room to turn a car in.

For the first time in years Redwood City was this week visited by an old-fashioned hurdy gurdy man and his monkey. The music was characteristic, and iff a few notes were skipped here and there, the omission was never missed, as the monkey filled in the gaps with a pair of brass symbols.

City Trustees Discuss New Ordinance

Redwood City's building ordinance formed the main subject for discussion at the meeting of the board last Monday evening. A number of the local building contractors were present at the meeting and engaged in the discussion. The matter of placing all contractors under bond was considered and brought forth varying opinions. While some favored the proposition, others favored a yearly license fee, and some opposed either method. The end sought by the legislation would be the enforcement of the building ordinance and non-licensing such contractors as do not obey the regulations of the ordinance.

The discussion of the building ordinance was followed by that of the proposed street work in the Eastern Addition, which was taken up at the previous meeting. City Engineer Dimmitt was asked by the board to draw up plans and specifications for the streets.

A petition was received from J. E. Ryan asking that Harrison avenue be improved for two blocks from Adams street. The matter was referred to City Engineer Dimmitt who will investigate the situation and report to the board at their next meeting.

An $8,000 insurance policy on the Seagrave fire truck was voted renewed by the board. The policy is held by E. B. Fox.

D. W. Williams was reappointed on the board of trustees of the public library.

Risso, it became known yesterday through a dispatch from Los Angeles, is about to announce his engagement to Miss Ethel Teare, society belle of Los Angeles. The engagement is to be made known tomorrow simultaneously at a bachelor dinner at the Bohemian Club, San Francisco and at a dinner to be given by Miss Teare at her home in the southern city.

The romance, which is said to have begun ten months ago while Risso was in Los Angeles organizing the foreign exchange department of the Bank of Italy there, has been kept a profound secret.—Examiner.

Risso is a brother of Gus Risso, the Internal Revenue Collector of Burlingame, and was formerly clerk in the local branch of the Bank of Italy.

Last Thursday while W. B. Kimery, an employe of the Portland Pacific Cement Plant here, was inside of one of the large concrete mixers chipping the dried concrete from the machine with a heavy hammer and a crowbar, the machine was accidently started by an electrician. Kimery escaped uninjured from this ordeal, but slipped on a wet board and broke his leg the next day.

SHERIFF McGOVERN CAPTURES A FORGER

Clyde T. Banfield, alias Banks, who is alleged to have passed a number of bad checks in Susanville and to ha evembezzeled a small automobile at that place, was arrested on the property of the Peninsula Farms Company at Pescadero Wednesday by Sheriff McGovern and a deputy from the office of the sheriff to Lassen county. The man was brought to the county jail here and then sent to Susanville accompanied by the deputy.

Banfield, it is said, has been sought by the authorities of Lassen county for four years. Four years ago he passed a number of bad checks and escaped, coming to Redwood City. Here his arrest was frustrated by his being warned of his danger. The second offense in Susanville occured recently when he paid a small deposit on a car which he drove away without paying the balance due. He also left several bad checks behind him.

The car found in his possession at Pescadero was supplied with license plates from a car registered in Santa Rosa. It is thought that his arrest may lead to the discovery of other crimes.

VERDICT OF JURY AT COLMA SHOWS SUICIDE

The death of an unidentified young man found in a canyon near Colma Wednesday was caused by a gunshot wound inflicted with suicidal intent, according to a coroner's jury which investigated the case Thursday at the offices of Deputy Coroner W. C. Lasswell at Daly City.

The investigation, conducted by Dr. W. A. Brooke of Halfmoon Bay, coroner of San Mateo county, set at rest rumors of foul play which had been mentioned since the discovery of the body by Floyd Wharton, Colma youth, who notified Constable A. Landini of Colma.

The officers found a rusted .38 caliber revolver tied to the right hand of the body and that two chambers in the gun had been discharged, it was reported.

The inquest Thursday revealed that there was but one bullet wound in the body, directly over the heart, officials said.

The couple have one son, a boy of ten years. No property adjustment is asked in the complaint.

Mr. Rowan has purchased a place in the Winchester tract and will soon start the erection of a beautiful home. The McGlade place, the adjoining property, was also sold this week by Magruder to O'Connor of the firm McGill & O'Connor, concrete contractors of San Francisco. LOCAL MASONS HONOR MASTER CHAS. MERRILL

Charles Merrill, master of Redwood Lodge No. 168 F. & A. M. was the guest of honor at an informal banquet after the regular meeting of the lodge Thursday evening. The affair was in the nature of a surprise for the master who had just returned from a month's trip through the East and eastern Canada, where he was attending the convention of the Credit Men's Association of the United States, and also the convention of the Rotary Clubs.

An enjoyable banquet had been prepared by Mark Ryan and a committee of other Masons. Musical numbers rendered by Otis M. Carrington and Pierce Coombs were enjoyed. In the course of the evening Mr. Merrill told of his trip and the many events that had transpired. The master was presented with a small silver trowel by the officers of the lodge in honor of his return.

During the credit men's convention, Mr. Merrill was elected president of the San Francisco Creditmen's Association.

Two South City Girls Attacked By Stranger

Another clue which may lead to the identification of the fiend who has been attacking and beating young San Francisco girls, was found in South San Francisco this week when a stranger driving a Marmon car without any license plates attacked two little girls of that city.

The driver of the car stopped and asked the direction of the two little girls, Jane Blank, daughter of the cashier of the South San Francisco bank, and Helen Hickey, niece of Supervisor Hickey of the First township. The girls were coaxed into the car with the offers of candy, and the stranger asked them to guide him to another part of the city.

With the girls in the car the stranger drove through the city and out into the foothills, where he attempted an attack upon them. The girls screamed loudly, however, and it is thought that their screams caused the man to fear that someone would investigate the disturbance. He took the girls into South San Francisco again and left them. The police obtained a description of the car, and with this they hope to trail the culprit.

Fire Threatens The County Memorial Park

A fire said to have started Wednesday in the camp of the Godeau mill near the San Mateo County Memorial Park, and which for several hours threatened the park as well as the other timberland of that district, was extinguished after a hard fight by District Ranger Bert Werder and a number of campers at the park.

Had the fire reached the park, it would have been impossible to stop it within miles, it is stated, since the blaze, backed by a gentle breeze, would have swept up over the ridge in the direction of San Gregorio.

The fire broke out in a slashing covered with a tangle of fallen trees and brush that had been cut and drying for over a year. The wood consequently was like tinder. The origin of the fire is not known, although it is believed that it started from a cigarette dropped by one of the mill men. No damage was done; the cook shack caught fire at one time, but was saved.

The Godeau mill where the fire started is owned by Julius Godeau, San Francisco undertaker, who operates it for timber used by him. It has been in operation but a short time.

THE NATION'S BEREAVEMENT

THIS week there is a shadow over the White House, and a cruel vacancy in the family of our president; that vacancy, a chasm whose rough and uncouth edges Time in part may smooth but can never fill. Last week Calvin Coolidge, Jr., bright, laughing and full of spirit was the pride of his parents and the light of the White House; today that light is no more, and the boy who embodied the hopes and ambitions of the president is, like those very hopes, dead. The nation mourns with that boy's parents, and with them feels their loss. President Coolidge's family has the sympathy of his country; a sympathy too deep to be express in words, that can only be thought and by thought be understood.

THE VISIT OF A NATION

GREAT BRITAIN has dropped in for a friendly call upon her full grown daughter across the sea, and this week the red, white and blue of the Union Jack is mingled with the red, white and blue of the Stars and Stripes throughout San Francisco. British tars are being shown a warm welcome by their American cousins, and for the first time many Americans are being given a sight of the navy that since the memorable days of Drake has maintained the freedom of the seas. The war ships of Britain are today acting in the capacity of an envoy of peace; the greatest peace this troubled world has known. Born of a common stock, cherishing the same ideals and traditions, speaking the same language, and embued with the same spirt, America and Britain stand today, as we hope they may ever stand, the friendliest nations of the world. Nowhere in the world can there be found a borderline of the length of that which separates the United States and Canada without a fort and an army of sentries—mute evidence of brotherhood that unites the Anglo Saxon race.

A CRYING NEED

WITH insect pests increasing yearly and taking a large toll from the over harassed farmer the need of a more efficient system of pest control becomes more and more apparent. The county provides a horticultural commissioner, in this county, Mr. A. W. Tape, whose duties are to inspect shipments entering and leaving the county, inspect farms and orchards, give advice to farmers and file reports with the board of supervisors. These duties leave him little or no time for the study of the pests which infest this particular vicinity. True, the state maintains an insectry at Sacramento, but this institution must serve for the whole state, and even if it were not curtailed in funds, could not give the attention necessary to the needs of each locality. The result has been that the parasites which would hold the pests in check have not been developed or propagated, and preventative measures have not been developed suitable for the individual needs of the place. In this county the black sowbug or pillbug, for instance, has increased in alarming numbers and bids fair to become one of the worst pests yet encountered. The cypress borer is another. With proper facilities and assistance given to our county horticultural commissioner these pests could be combated. The logical way to secure these facilities would be for the counties of this section to join together and build an insectry to serve the individual needs of this section. The cost divided among the four or five counties benefited would be insignificant. The benefits would amount to thousands of dollars a year for this county alone.

THE DEMOCRATS DECIDE

AFTER the Democratic convention in New York had broken all records for the number of ballots cast and the length of time occupied, a candidate for the presidency was at last chosen. Last Wednesday John W. Davis of West Virginia received the support of the Bourbon forces on the 103rd ballot, and now stands as the leader of the party in the forthcoming election. A skilled attorney, an able diplomat, and a man of outstanding qualities, Davis is unquestionably one of the best men the convention could have selected from the ranks of the Democratic party. During the Wilson administration Mr. Davis filled the post of ambassador to England with credit to this country. As solicitor general he has shown his knowledge and application of the law, as he has in private practice. While we do not believe that he will prove a dangerous contestant for President Coolidge, yet to give credit where credit is due, it must be said that the Democrats, from the material at hand, have chosen well.

FORD CAR GIVEN OVATION ENROUTE TO THE COAST

With half its journey from New York to San Francisco completed, the ten millionth Ford car is rolling along across the western states towards the Pacific, reeling off a vivid and colorful motion picture for the automotive history of America.

Crossing the Missouri river into Nebraska, the sturdy little car that represents ten million transportation units of one kind, left behind it for the eastern section of the United States along the Lincoln highway a picture that will live long in the memory of the thousands that enjoyed it—a picture filled with enthusiatic scenes, lengthy processions and unique features, all in tribute to the great industry of which the car is a product.

As it progresses Westward the picture takes on a new and varied atmosphere, with the great welcoming hand of the West outstretched to receive it and send it on its journey to the coast.

Entry of the Ten Millionth Ford into Chicago was triumphant, if anything, for it was accompanied by a parade of 300 cars. The trip across Illinois was one ovation after another. At Clinton, where the cars entered Iowa, the state in which rain has lately been trying to outdo the corn, it was greeted by a big delegation of Ford dealers, a band of Scotch bag pipers and songs written to the optimistic tune of, "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More." At Omaha City officials are preparing a warm welcome for the car, and will participate in the big parade which will feature its entry into Nebraska's metropolis.

CLOSING SCENES OF LONG CONVENTION

A sigh of relief expressed the sentiments of each of the Democratic delegates at the convention at Madison Square Gardens, N. Y. when on the 103rd ballot the long fought deadlock was broken. The picture shows the closing of the longest party convention in the history of the United States.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM ROY W. CLOUD

Washington, D. C., July 4, 1924.

Dear John:

My stay in Washington is just about finished, so thought I would drop you a line and give you an idea of what we have seen. I wrote my last letter in the Grand Canyon. Our trip across Arizona and New Mexico was uninteresting and hot. The thermometer registered about 108 to 112 degrees. When we reached Colorado the weather began to modify. We ran into showers in Missouri which helped to make things more comfortable. At Galesburg, Ill., we saw a shower that was real rain. In a very short space of time it rained three inches. Our track was washed out and we were stalled for five hours. We couldn't go into town as we had left our rubber boots at home. We saw youngsters on improvised rafts and every street had become a swimming pool. Our engine was off the track because of spreading rails, so we enjoyed a rest.

We had expected to take a sightseeing trip through Chicago. This was omitted to make up time. Our way now lead through Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The country was beautiful and green. The crops along our way were wonderful, and anyone seeing them would say that the good old U. S. A. should be in a prosperous conditon. Just at dusk Saturday night we had the most wonderful electrical display I have ever seen. Lightening flashed and thunders roared in every direction. Rain fell in torrents, and it seemed as though all of the elements were acting for our benefit. Our right of way soon became a stream and then a lake and we were forced to stop in Western Pennsylvania for six hours. A pilot engine came to our rescue. It went ahead and we slowly followed and morning found us at Pittsburg.

All along the way we saw automobiles that had been left on the road. The water in most cases was way over the running boards. Our papers at Pittsburg told of the many train wrecks and casualties, but we came safely through.

From Pittsburg to Washington we traveled through beautiful sections. The Alleghany mountains, green and glistening, the Susquehana, Monongehela and the Juniata rivers, whose courses we followed, added much to the beauty of the country.

Southeastern Pennsylvania and Maryland were peaceful in their Sabbath quiet, and we were a tired crowd of pedagogues when we drew into Washington Sunday night.

We were too late for any of the opening exercises of the convention. Monday, however, we registered and throughout the week we have heard some inspiring and helpful talks on educational topics. The meetings have been held in the early morning and until noon and at night which gave us the afternoons for sightseeing. Our first pilgrimage was to Mount Vernon. On our way we stopped at Alexandria, Virginia. Here we visited Christ church and sat in the seats formerly occupied by George Washington and by Robert E. Lee. The Masonic Hall was our next stopping place and here we saw relics and records appertaining to George Washington, the Mason.

Mount Vernon was more than I had expected to find it. The spacious grounds are splendidly kept. The great rolling lawns that stretch from the front porch to the Potomac were glistening in their greenness and the halls and rooms of Mt. Vernon reek with the memories of the founder of our country.

We came home by way of Arlington and stopped for a moment by the grave of the unknown soldier. We also paid our respect to the home of the Lees of Virginia which is a beautiful old Colonial home, overlooking the Potomac and Washington.

The next day Mr. Arthur Free, congressman from home, called on us, and with his machine howed us all of the beauty spots of the capitol, and in the House we stood where presidents have stood to read their messages to the Congress of the United States. In the Senate Chamber we sat in the chairs of Daniel Webster, and Jefferson Davis as well as in the those of Samuel M. Shortridge and Hiram Johnson.

Mr. Free left nothing unseen and although he was exceedingly busy gave up his work so that we might see the things that it would be good for us to know about. Yesterday he arranged a meeting with President Coolidge and at twelve o'clock we were ushered into the presence of the man who rules the destiny of our nation.

I am not going to try to explain my feelings at I stood in the room which has been occupied by the men who have guided the ship of state through its many trials and triumphs. President Coolidge received us, said a few words, and our visit was ended. Today we heard him deliver his Fourth of July address to the teachers of the nation. He admonished us to be loyal to our country, faithful to our trust and earnest in our endeavors to bring about a higher standard of citizenship. He is a great man, simple and plain, as a good American should be, and is a really inspired leader.

My friends are waiting for me as we are starting on a trip to Gettysburg, so I must close.

Yours,
ROY W. CLOUD

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process
Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.
With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.
Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leavs a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The work of widening the state highway from Redwood City to the San Francisquito bridge has begun. Contractors have started at Five Points. All the oaks on the highway at Atherton are to fall, victims of the woodman's ax. It is to be regretted that they could not be spared but they must give way to the onrush of the vicious automobile that is making everything stand aside these days, not excepting human beings.

Last week Dennis Ryan Kennedy was united in marriage at Elmhurst to Miss Nora O'Loughlin. Father F. D. O'Kelley, former priest of Menlo Park, performed the ceremony. The wedding is the culmination of a romance that had its inception in school days in Ireland. Mr. Kennedy has resided in Menlo Park and is a communter. He is a civil engineer by profession. The bride is an unusually charming and pretty young woman. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have taken a cottage near the Sacred Heart College on Valparaiso avenue.

George Angus, Jr., is building a cosy cottage on his property in the Winchester tract at Atherton. It is understood when it is completed it will not be for rent. Mr. Angus is a well-known San Francisco business man and bachelor.

A state dairy inspector inspected the Home Dairy at Ravenswood this week and gave the concern the highest rating for its products of any dairy in the state. The percentage was 98.07, the best percentage ever received by any dairy on the peninsula. This institution is one of the best equipped in California, the milk not being excelled anywhere. Its by-products are also unequalled in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Crane have returned home after spending a vacation of two weeks at the seashore at Santa Cruz. They report having a delightful time.

Edwin Smith is erecting a modern cottage in Menlo Oaks. It will be completed in August when he will occupy it with his wife.

Representatives of the telephone company and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company were here during the week looking into the proposition of placing the electric light and telephone wires under ground through town. These companies will either do this or reroute the lines. Either way would be acceptable to the people of Menlo Park. The landscape would be rid of their hideous appearance.

Last week a baby born was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phlager. Mrs. Phlager was Miss Macondray of Atherton.

Fred Nessler, proprietor of the Little Green Door, leaves for a vacation of ten days to be spent in the wilds of Humboldt county on Monday. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Murray and her husband. This will be the first vacation Mr. Nessler had had in seven years and it is certainly well earned.

Aspinall and Ryan, hardware men from Fresno, have opened a well-stocked hardware store in the J. C. Brown building. Mr. Ryan is the local manager of the concern. He is a courteous gentleman who knows the wants of the community, and will supply them. His charming wife and sister are here and will be an addition to the social set of Menlo Park. The firm will do a big business here. It is filling a long felt want.

Fire Commissioner Charles Merrill, his wife and son returned from from New York the fore part of the week after an absence of two months. Mr. Merrill was a guest of the chief of the fire department of New York and was shown the big equipment of the department. The Merrills enjoyed the many sights about Gotham, but the warm weather was almost unbearable so that they were glad to get back to the cooling breezes of Menlo Park.

F. P. Nutting and family will leave today for Lake Tahoe to spend three weeks. Mr. Nutting is occupying Mrs. W. Clug's residence on Glenwood avenue. He has an interesting family.

Late Thursday evening United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, smiling and radiant with happiness, returned home from Washington bearing the laurels of his legislative achievements at the capitol, modestly but with a just pride. On alighting from the train he was greeted by his old friends and congratulated on his splendid achievements accomplished at Washington for California and its people. The passage of the exclusion act was through his efforts. To him must credit be given for getting this bill on the statute books. He sponsored the Child Labor law, and was foremost in securing government aid in stamping out the foot and mouth disease. He has accomplished a great deal for California during his brief term in the senate. The people feel grateful to him for his efforts on their behalf.

The senator has no doubt whatever that Coolidge will carry California, and his particular business here, he said, would be to see that the Coolidge majority is made as large as possible.

Speaking of the passage of the immigration bill with the Japanese exclusion provision—which was his amendment—Senator Shortridge said "The action of Congress closes the issue of Asiatic exclusion. It now remains for the country to see to it that the law is enforced and that proper precautions are taken to prevent evasion of the law by smuggling aliens over the Mexican border.

"It is not generally understood that the Japanese are really only a very small minority of the people affected by the new exclusion law. Its prohibition against those ineligible to American citizenship covers Asiatic populations totalling over 850,000,000 or virtually one half of the human race.

"The population of Japan represents only 7 per cent of this number, yet Japan was the only nation that presumed to protest against our own settlement of a purely domestic question."

The Donohoe property consisting of 100 acres at Ravenswood that was bought recently by Rieter and Driscoll, was sold this week to capitalists of San Francisco who are planning to subdivide the property into small lots and offer them for sale. It is said that Rieter and Driscoll cleaned up over $50,000 on the deal.

Behind the Scenes With Your Power Rate
LIKE water, hydro-electric energy is cheap at the source. The cost of producing power is the smallest item making up the consumer's rate.
But it costs money to bring power from the distant Sierras, and distribute it to thousands of customers—repairing lines, reading meters, keeping accounts, collecting bills, and maintaining steam standby plants to assure continuous and uniform service.
Taxes, and interest on borrowed money, must be paid. No power service can be rendered without such costs and those costs make up the consumer's rate.
A comparison of rates in different territories signifies no more than a comparison of the cost of water in the Sahara desert with the cost of water at the margin of Lake Superior.
